VOLUME XLIV.

Oxford Co. W. C. T. Convention.

The 29th Annual Oxford County Women's Christian Temperance Union convened at the Congregational church at Norway, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 27 and 28.

The opening session of the Conference was held at 10.30 and was conducted by Mrs. E. C. Wentworth of Norway. In the course of her remarks she spoke of what God has done for the workers during the year, giving them renewed strength, courage and triumph in the work.

Mrs. Fannie B. Lovejoy of Bethel, in the absence of the corresponding secretary, was chosen as substitute and called the roll which was responded to by those present. The program was arranged by Mrs. E. G. Stickney of East Brownfield, the president, was accepted.

The committee on credentials was appointed including Mrs. E. W. Chaudler, Bethel, Mrs. Bates and Mrs. Fannie A. White of West Paris. Committee on resolutions, Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Elizabeth Morton and Mrs. Nellie Farnum. Courtesy Committee, Mrs. Walter Anderson of Norway and Mrs. Emogene Sweet of South Paris.

In the absence of Mrs. H. L. Bartlett, Mrs. E. C. Wentworth of Norway gave the address of welcome. She said in her remarks that the local union was glad to welcome the visitors to Norway, and while we did not have all the beauties of Norway in the old country, we have some beautiful scenery.

Referring to the natural scenery she made reference to Pike Hill from which an excellent view is obtained of lake, hills and mountains, and Lake Pennesseewassee along whose shores can be seen some excellent views.

"As a union we are glad to welcome you for the comradeship, the object for which we stand is promoting purity and righteousness." She also paid tribute to Frances Willard, who will be always remembered for what she did and the way she did it.

Mrs. Anna W. White of West Paris responded to the welcome in saying that the members of the County Union received the invitation to meet here with thanks, and that as members of the W. C. T. U. we stand with you who wear the white ribbon. We have much to be proud of and have an opportunity to take courage and we shall legalize the traffic of liquor.

We want to express our thanks to the local union for the hospitality shown us in your homes. The report of prison and jail work was given by Mrs. Lucella Morton of South Paris. She stated that while not much has been done, services have been conducted the last and 2d Sundays of each month at the jail, usually with special music. There are 16 men now in jail and one woman.

The report of the Red Letter Days committee was read by the secretary which showed that red letter days had been observed by 14 meetings, four socials and an institute held at Kezar Falls. Mrs. Stickney spoke at some length on the benefits derived from the Memorial Fund, which is especially assisting the frontier states.

The report of the Mothers' Day chairman, Mrs. Eva Ordway of South Paris, was read by Mrs. Geo. Farnum, which showed that only a few unions had reported to the secretary, as observing Mothers' day, but meetings have been held at South Paris, Bethel, Brownfield and Mexico, with interesting and helpful programs.

At noon a bountiful dinner was served by the ladies of the local union in the vestry.

The work among the lumbermen was taken up and reports read from the different unions where work along this line had been done, which includes the unions of So. Paris, Brownfield and Mexico.

Mrs. Martha Anderson of Norway gave a very full account of the work of the unions as to the supplies and aid given the needy the past year. The unions reported were: Bethel, East Brownfield, Norway, Rumford Center, West Paris, Rumford and South Paris, and each has been alive and of assistance to those in need.

The corresponding secretary gave a report of the unions in the County, giving a brief history as to its organization, its membership, its membership, money raised, and the special meetings which totaled 283 members, 14 public meetings held, 11 petitions circulated, $235 dollars raised outside of dues and $14 for the memorial fund.

The report of the secretary, Mrs. Nellie P. Farnum of South Paris, showed that $298.99 had been received during the year, $161.90 disbursed, $81.45 State dues, leaving on hand $45.64.

The president, Mrs. E. A. G. Stickney, gave a very interesting message, in which she said that the W. C. T. U. has been six years since the last time there have been signal victories and other victories of which we have hardly known. One great triumph is the passage of the Webb Bill, which has been very helpful. There has been much opposition but that opposition is helping the good cause along for those who are trying to reform. Scientific instruction is especially helpful and by the use of the new charts is making the work more interesting and instructive, and more effective work can be accomplished. It has been said that 1920 will see temperance universal throughout the United States, but that will not be without the united efforts of every organization.

We need to develop a more prayerful spirit and need the younger people to help take up the work that many of us are laying down. The County must be well represented at Rumford in September at the State convention.

The pastors present were introduced, including Rev. B. C. Wentworth, Rev. R. J. Bruce and Rev. E. A. Davis of South Paris, each of whom made brief remarks in welcome to the convention, and spoke along the lines of temperance and the work that is being done by the unions.

At 3.45 nearly 300 children of the primary schools and the grades filed into the church to hear the address by Mrs. Deborah Livingston of Bangor. Rev. C. D. Spear of South Paris spoke briefly to the young people before Mrs. Livinston arrived. Her talk to the young people was very interesting. In opening she told a story of how her mother, her brother and herself went out of the village among the highlands of Scotland, for her home when young, was there, and after sitting on the stone wall and Lecture on Christian Science.

The lecture on Christian Science, which was given Tuesday evening at the Opera house, was not largely attended, there being only a fair sized audience present.

A. S. Kimball of Norway introduced the speaker in a few well chosen words. He said that in the past 40 years that he had been practicing law that he had never before attended a Christian Science lecture, but had come to listen and to learn.

The lecture was delivered by William R. Rathvon, G. S. B., of Denver, Colo., a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship of Boston. He said in part: I wish to present a few of the principles of Christian Science. The subject is a great, broad one. I cannot break a little corner of ground here tonight, that the seeds may bring forth fruit. We are children of one Father, and it is not my object to undermine the beliefs of those who believe in another church. If they find the dearest God in their religion, may God speed them where they are.

Christian Science is founded on the Bible and one other book, "Science and Health," which was written by Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy. It has turned out old Book into many book volumes. No other book has ever made so many Bible lovers. It was written in solitude by this beautiful woman. The speaker has known her personally for twenty years, having resided in her household during the time. She was a chosen evangel of Truth and she would have us study her books and not her charming personality. She was an ardent leader and an ardent follower of that which is eternal and good. No thought has ever come before the people which has been so generally misunderstood as Christian Science. It shows up the mystery that comes into so many lives and frees men from wrong desires. Many people have begun to understand, but it is to be learned little by little. One must begin at the beginning and learn. Hypnotism and mesmerism have no relation with it whatever. The will is made subservient to the will of the Father, and it must become as little children, in harmony with the will of Christ.

Christian Science has caused a better idea of Heaven and God. Heaven is not a place but a state of the mind. The Scriptures, in the New Testament, written metaphorically, Christian Science teaches that Heaven is here and that we can get much or as little of it as we choose. Its attainment lies in our own power, and as for Hell, many people have begun getting their share right here. It does not come from the heart of God. Sin brings punishment and we are punished by our sin, not for our sins. The result is due to man, according to his shortcomings, disobedience and sin. It is the student of the doctrine that God sends us things that are evil. It leads us unto the loving Father, not as one on a throne of deities, but as one who is a throne of deities.

We get Heaven here in just the proportion which we seek it by. If we seek it in the wrong way, there will be no sickness. It comes from wrong thinking and mistaken ideas.

Christian Science deals with the thoughts. When one finds things going wrong with him he looks at his thoughts and whatever the thought is it is true, able to wrong or evil thoughts and back of every bodily ailment there is some physical cause. How are we to bring more of health into our lives? By thinking right things and bringing more good into the life. The greatest enemy we have is love, love for God and love for man, which Christ taught, and it is greater than faith and hope. When things seem to be going wrong, bring more of the love for God and for man into your lives and stop looking at the man who brings more injury to himself than to the one he hates. Hatred is like a viper, it stings like an adder.

The heart subservient to Christian Science has love and everyone must overcome his or her heart. The heart is the factor. Love must be most loved and raise up and not throw down.

Most misery is due to wrong thinking. Every evil thing comes from wrong thinking. Our thoughts affect our lives. Disgrace and ruin are the result of wrong thinking. There is no good thing to be said of it. One must not speak, saying "My head aches" or "My rheumatism," as it does not belong to him and it is a state of mind. He should not say that any more than he should not say "My mind," which does not belong to him any more than those other ailments. Discouragement kills thought, pulls man down and puts strange thoughts into his mind and causes evil things to be done. Every action has to be preceded by thought and discouragement is a true harbinger of evil and no one can afford to possess it. To every man life is sparkling with blessings. As fragrance is to the flower so is gratitude to the heart. Bring gratitude to God into your life. Think as God would have you, and "Let the words of our mouths and the meditations of our hearts be acceptable in Thy sight, Oh Lord, our strength and our Redeemer."

Endorsed at Home.

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Norway Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, who may be sure he is thoroughly convinced may be sure he is not doing so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Norway adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

C. E. Bradford, prop. laundry, Main St., Norway, Me., says: "Sometimes I had a dull pain through the small of my back, together with a tired feeling. I couldn't rest well. When a friend advised me to take Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply at Stone's Drug Store. After I used two boxes the pains and other troubles disappeared, and there was a great improvement in every way. I have had no trouble since." 22 23

Better Paint. Better paint this year if your property needs it. Mistaken men have been waiting for paint to come down. The cost of their job has gone up not down; it always goes up by waiting; it never comes down.

Better paint than Devco? There isn't any. Suppose one had waited 20 or 30 years ago for a better paint than Devco; how long would he still have to wait? How long would he still have to wait? The price a gallon makes some difference, yes, but not much; it's the paint that counts; the quality counts. It's the go-for that counts. Protection of property counts more yet. Better paint.

Worms in Children.

By Dr. True

If mothers only knew the tortures the little ones may suffer from worms! Thousands of children have stomach worms or pin worms and their parents do not know it. They doctor them for other ailments.

Signs of worms are: Indigestion, with a variable appetite; abnormal craving for sweets; nausea and vomiting; swollen upper lip; sour tongue; offensive breath; hard full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; face at one time flushed, then pale and in a few cases the face takes on a dull leaden hue. Eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids; itching of the nose; itching of the rectum; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; little red points sticking out on tongue; starting during sleep; slow fever; pulse quickened and irregular; body may be hot; and, in children, convulsions.

Don't delay! Delays are dangerous. Give the children at once some of Dr. True's Elixir. Directions on the bottle. Sold by all dealers at 35c, 50c and $1.00. Thousands of grateful mothers have given my Dr. True's Elixir to sick children and restored them to health.

There's no question as to which you would choose to eat. And there's just as much difference between fresh tobacco in the Sickle Plug and dried-up particles of sliced or granulated tobacco.

All the natural tobacco flavor and moisture are pressed into the Sickle Plug, and kept in by the natural leaf wrapper. You whittle a pipeful off the plug as you use it—that is why you always get it fresh—always get a slow-burning, sweet, cool, satisfying smoke.

Economical, because you get more tobacco—there's no package to pay for. And there's no waste. All good dealers sell Sickle—try a pipeful today.

What Beautiful Hair!

How often do we hear that exclamation about a certain woman's or man's hair. A prominent scientist and hair specialist emphatically states, and has proven, that any man or woman can have luxuriant, lustrous hair, by using a famous prescription called PARISIAN Sage.

PARISIAN Sage is now made and sold in America. Frank Kimball the druggist, is the agent in Norway and the readers of the Norway Advertiser can buy from him for only 50 cents a large bottle.

Frank Kimball knows that PARISIAN Sage will beautify the hair, cure dandruff and stop falling hair, and for that reason he sells it under a guarantee to cure or money back. Price 50 cents. Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y., American Makers. 21-22

"THE GREATEST KIDNEY REMEDY ON EARTH" SAYS A GRATEFUL WOMAN

I want to tell you how much good your Swamp-Root did me. About four years ago I suffered from what the doctors called fistula and for two years of that time I endured what no tongue can tell. I also had inflammation of the bladder and I tried doctor's medicines without receiving any help. Someone told me about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. After giving it a thorough trial, I received relief, so kept on using it and today I am a strong and well woman. I never feel badly or out of sorts. I take Swamp-Root and it always straightens me out. I honestly believe that this medicine would cure all troubles you recommend it for and it is a pleasure for me to send my testimonial and photograph to you. I think Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is one of the greatest medicines on earth.

Respectfully yours,

How to Fly a Flag.

The following instructions have been issued for the raising of the flag.

I. Under no circumstances, either in raising or lowering a flag, should it be allowed to touch the ground.

II. Care should always be taken that the union is at the top of the flag. In hanging a flag horizontally from a building the union should be on the side away from the building.

III. The national flag should be above the State flag when both are displayed from the same staff.

VI. When a flag is displayed at half-staff it should first be raised to the top of the staff and then lowered to the proper position which is half-way between the top and the middle of the staff—literally at three-quarters-staff.

V. A flag displayed at half-staff as a mark of respect should be returned to the top of the staff at the conclusion of the funeral services of the person thus honored.

VI. For Memorial Day flags should be at half-staff from sunrise until noon. At noon they should be raised to the top of the staff and remain there until sunset.

VII. Flags should not be allowed to remain flying at night.

VIII. The union of the national flag now consists of 48 stars, in six rows, eight stars in each row.

Do not be ashamed to love the flag or confess your love of it.

Make much of it; tell its history; sing of it.

It now floats over our schools, and it ought to hang from the windows of all our homes on all our public days.

Every man should uncover when the flag is hoisted in parades, and every one should rise when a national air is given at public meeting.—[Benjamin Harrison.]

How Thackeray Regarded Scott. Though Thackeray thought Dumas greater than Scott, yet for the latter he felt much admiration and even reverence. When a popular novelist one day justified himself for something he had written by urging that Scott had written it also, Thackeray replied: "I do not think that it becomes either you or me to speak of Sir Walter Scott as if we were his equals. Such men as you or I should take off our hats at the very mention of his name."—"Some Aspects of Thackeray," Louis Melville.

resting, her mother asked her what she wanted her to do for amusement. She immediately told her to tell her a story about a stone wall, thinking she had said of her mother could not tell her about. But she was wrong, for her mother began by telling her of the various kinds of rocks, both large and small, which go to make up a wall, then came the story of the walled cities and all that they meant to the history of the cities and the nations. A wall is to keep something in and likewise it is to keep something out. And that is just what the church, the school organization and the temperance societies are trying to do. We cannot all be big stones in these walls but we can be little stones in the temperance wall by being total abstainers and each one can close one's saloon. "There is a saloon that I will close, it lies between my chin and nose, is the verse she taught them."

After the singing of America by the children they were dismissed.

Mrs. Livingston spoke at some length to the W. C. T. U., concerning the ball lot and the enrollment plan.

The evening session, Tuesday was well attended; president, Mrs. E. A. G. Stickney of Bangor, in the chair.

Rev. B. C. Westworth sang a solo, Daisy Chase, accompanist; scripture reading and prayer by Mrs. H. L. Hanson of Rumford. The original poem especially written for the occasion by Mrs. Julia C. Dorr of South Paris was read by Mrs. Clara G. Allen of Bangor.

The address by Mrs. Livingston, National Superintendent of Franchise, had been largely gathered from Mrs. Livingston's personal observation and experience in all parts of the United States.

Among her thoughts, so profound that they crowded one after another, and her aptly quoted extracts from the scriptures, we gathered the now generally conceded facts—that crime of all kinds is directly traceable to liquor habits and indirectly to the crimes of the fathers, which are the children to the third and fourth generations.

Forty years ago the Woman's Christian Temperance Union began its work, and from a small almost despised and ridiculed beginning, it has fought right along on the same line—the betterment of humanity—till now it is one of the most powerful forces in the world.

"Temperance is the most popular thing today." In high places, the President of the United States endorses it; the Secretary of State endorses it; the Speaker of the House of Representatives endorses it; the Governor of Maine endorses it. Everywhere the high assurance of business requires the clearest brains to succeed.

During her attendance at a meeting in Quebec, she asked a most noted French physician why he became interested in this movement, he, a man bought up according to a wealthy and influential French families, traditions, said: "His patients came to him from all over the city to be cured of the disease caused by the liquor disease, and still others came, and he reasoned that it would be better to start at the original cause and prevent the disease, than to wait until a French gentleman, who was on the platform, said as he conversed with Mrs. Livingston in French, it was because of the sorrow, misery and degradation in the cases that came before him for trial, that he caused him to place his life and his way of life as a doctor, and said: "She was probably the only Protestant at that meeting but Roman and Protestants have at least this one thing in common. The Women's Christian Temperance Union has done much by having their girls, in better legislation, and in better conditions, in the hours of labor for women and children, in the white slave topic, and many other conditions for greater purity in the world and in the home.

Towards the beginning of her public work in the W. C. T. U., an aged lady in Providence, R. I., one of the pioneers in the work went to her and said, "There is one principal thing in connection with this work you may have overlooked. I will tell you how I formed that conclusion. A widow came to me one day, she said, 'I have been gone three days and I cannot find him, can you find him for me.' 'I can and will,' was the reply. She found him in a stupefied condition in a room over a saloon. (No woman knew more about the places and ways of vice in that city than she.) She took him home to his mother and to his own room. She returned to the saloon and to the big man behind the bar with his white coat of the morning stained from the drinks he had mixed, she asked that he would not sell Willie, the only son of a widowed mother, more liquor. 'Do you see that piece of paper,' he asked, pointing to a small framed paper behind the bar, as he held his big red arms and sneered at her earnest entreaty. 'Uncle Sam is back of me and this city, that is I shall see liquor.'"

"Willie is Uncle Sam and the city," she thought. "The people, the fractional part of the people represented by the vote."

We women may pray and plead and entreat. We have for forty years. In the several states were the weapon of the ballot has been given we have used it understandingly.

It is a mistaken idea of the cartoonist that women want to do man's work. They want a condition of affairs so they can do a woman's work and do it well. They want an equal voice in making and enforcing laws, so that the best men may be in responsible places. They do not want their men incapacitated from the results of liquor usage and kindred evils, so that they are forced to leave the home, to have homes, to be bread winners. They are so interested in the welfare of their children that they want an equal voice in the education and environment of those children, that they may be well and strong. They want an equal chance that when they bring children into the world, those children may not become worse than if they had never been born.

"What will you do if you should have to go to war, would you shoulder a musket?"

"We would do more than that," was the reply, "for women have already shouldered the entire army."

A solo was sung by Bessie Chase accompanied by her sister, Daisy.

Benediction by Rev. R. J. Bruce.

At the opening session of the conference, Wednesday morning, the devotion at service was led by Mrs. A. T. McWhorter of South Paris. Reports of the different branches of the work were given. The committee on credentials reported, five presidents present, eight superintendents and seven delegates. There was a large number present at the session from South Paris and Norway.

It was voted as a union to be in total abstinence, in the prohibitory law and its enforcement, a communication to be sent to Gov. Haines and the legislature for their fearless allegiance to principle and duty in removing unfaithful officials. It was declared that the W. C. T. U. was in favor of suffrage for women.

An expression of appreciation was extended to the local union for their generous entertainment and to all who assisted in making the day a success.

Mrs. R. J. Bruce gave a vocal selection in her usual pleasing manner, before the memorial service which was led by Mrs. E. W. Chandler. In the course of her remarks she said it seemed most fitting at this time to stop and give a loving thought to those members who have passed on during the year. After reading the names of the deceased members prayer was offered by Mrs. Stickney.

The following officers have been elected:—

Pres.—Mrs. E. A. G. Stickney, East Brownfield.
V. Pres.—Mrs. Susie E. Chapman, South Paris.
Cor. Sec.—Mrs. E. W. Chandler, Bethel.
Rec. Sec.—Mrs. O. M. Mason, Bethel.
Treas.—Mrs. Nellie F. Farnum, South Paris.

The remainder of the session was devoted to the finishing up of the business and the reading of the remaining reports and finally adjourned at 2:45.

WORLD'S RECORD COW.

Notice Fine Udder Development of Daisy Grace de Kol.

The semi-official yearly record of Daisy Grace de Kol as a junior four-year-old is a world's record and exceeds by over 280 pounds of fat the former record for her class. It also exceeds by 130 pounds of fat the highest record ever made in the senior four-year-old class. It also exceeds all official or semi-official yearly records of full aged cows of other breeds. Her average per cent of fat for one year is 4.43, a showing that is wonderful.

In the eight months' division Daisy Grace de Kol broke the record for her class. During the verification test, when she was under constant watch day and night, she produced 483 pounds of milk which contained 2.39 pounds of fat.

Only two full aged cows besides her stable mates, Banostine Belle de Kol and High Lawn Hartog de Kol, have ever produced as much fat in one year as has Daisy Grace de Kol as a junior four-year-old.

Daisy Grace de Kol was bred, reared and developed at Maplecrest farm, owned by Dan Dimmick and brother, at East Claridon, O. She is more light than dark, beautifully marked and will weigh in the neighborhood of 1,500 or 1,400 pounds. She is very strong and vigorous, almost perfect in conformation, and if one were asked to name the one trait that predominates all others it would be that of giving milk that is very high in butter fat, her average per cent of fat for the year being 4.43. In this respect she resembles her dam, who is also high in butter fat. Daisy Grace de Kol was dry for about two months or ten weeks. She freshened at the age of four years, three months and thirteen days, this being the third time she had been fresh, showing that she is a good breeder.

PLANT TREES.

It pays in comfort and in looks to have a few trees about the farmyard. A treeless farm is a desolate looking place. There are trees adapted to every climate and soil as there are crops adapted to the different climatic and soil conditions. A few thrifty trees, trim and neat in their appearance, will make farm life more pleasant.—Kansas Farmer.

Feeding of Stallions.

A man reputed to be one of the best horse conditioners in the country gives stallions six pounds of oats in the morning, while the noon and evening meals are made up of five pounds of oats, eight quarts of bran and three quarts of chopped mixed hay. Carrots are fed at each meal, while mixed hay is kept before them nearly all the time.

Along the Garden Paths.

When watering plants do not force the water against the plant; let it fall in the form of a shower.

Cabbage and all other plants of the cabbage family require a very fertile and cool, moist soil for good growth.

Carrots are splendid for folks who need iron in their blood. One of the best ways to get it is to eat these nice roots.

Sunshine, rainfall and temperature are three important factors in cantaloupe culture beyond the control of the grower.

If your beet rows are too thick pull out some and boil them for greens. Nothing better in the world for this purpose.

Let no cucumbers go to seed or the productiveness of the vines will be stopped. Pick them often, whether you want them or not.

As fast as the boxes, frames and stakes have done their work take them out, so that no insects will make their homes about them.

If it is dry sip a can or two of water on the stone boat and let the horses draw it out to the garden for use on the celery and things that most need water. It will pay you when you come to gather in the harvest.

The Maine State Pomological Society will hold their annual field meeting at Foxcroft, Friday, June 20th.

BUCKFIELD.

Fogg-Ingalls.

At the residence of Mrs. Stella Fogg at Madison, Saturday evening, her daughter, Geneva Fogg, became the bride of Alfred Ingalls, a well-known Buckfield business man. Rev. George B. Southwick, pastor of the Free Baptist church, officiated and the single ring service was used. The ceremony came at 8 o'clock and was witnessed only by the immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom and Frank Berry of Buckfield.

Mr. Ingalls is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Ingalls of Anson. He is a graduate of Shaw's Business College. After leaving college he became a member of the firm of C. A. Roberts & Co., who ran a hardware store in Madison.

Visit of the Portland Board of Trade.

The Portland Board of Trade visited Norway and South Paris, Thursday noon, on route to Montreal. The special train left Portland at 8:30, visiting Yarmouth and Mechanic Falls along the line. The train, which included Pullman sleepers, a dining car, a day coach and a baggage car, arrived at Norway at 12 o'clock. Owing to the rain the plans of the South Paris and Norway Board of Trade had to be given up. Seventy-five automobiles had been engaged to convey the guests to Paris Hill and along the shores of Lake Umbagog. Many of the visitors were escorted around town and visited various places including Nash's taxidermist shops. At Norway the Portlanders were greeted by Z. S. Marchant, Randall Porter, C. L. Curtis, Frederick A. Cole, William O. Leavitt, S. B. Cummings, A. L. Buck, Charles Pike, Leon Longley, Dr. H. F. Jones, F. H. Beck, C. F. Ridlon, Dr. H. L. Bartlett, H. B. Foster and F. E. DeCoster. When the train reached South Paris, they were greeted with a large sign on which was inscribed, "Welcome Portland Board of Trade," and carried by C. W. Bowker, the chairman of the board of selectmen of Paris. Among others to greet the visitors were F. A. Farrar, J. S. Wright, A. W. Walker, A. E. Forbes and John A. Scott. The reception committee was composed of W. J. Wheeler, Dr. D. M. Stewart and Walter L. Girty; others at the station were J. H. Bean, John A. Scott, George A. Doran, George B. Crockett, D. H. Beal, Walter L. Gray, John White, Stanley M. Wheeler, A. D. Park and Burr F. Jones.

The visitors were taken over the interesting factory of the Mason Manufacturing Co., and the Paris Manufacturing Co. This part of the program was in charge of L. L. Mason and Halbert P. Gardner, both well known Portland residents, at the present time.

Lieut. Charles H. Porter.

Lieut. Charles H. Porter died at his home in Roxbury, Mass. after an illness of nearly two years. He was the son of Dea. W. H. Porter, the oldest man in Norway, the man who carries the Post canoe.

Lieut. Porter was born in South Paris, but he attended school at the Norway Liberal Institute, and the Porter family have lived in Norway many years. He has one brother, George Porter, of South Paris. Lieut. Porter was 66 years of age. He leaves a wife, a son and daughter.

At the age of 17 he enlisted in Co. K, Maine Volunteers, and fought with that regiment through-out the Civil War, being discharged in August, 1864. Two years later he went to Boston, and from a clerk in the grocery and provision business he rose to be one of the city's leading merchants.

He was prominent in Masonry, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, and the Grand Army of the Republic, in all of which he has most acceptably filled offices of trust.

He had travelled much in this country and in Europe.

The funeral was from the All Soul's, Unitarian Church, the Rev. Sheed Anderson, pastor of the church, and the Rev. Edward A. Horton, chaplain of the Senate, officiated. His favorite selections were sung by the Harvard Male Quartett. Large delegations from the orders to which he belonged attended. Burial in Forest Hill Cemetery.

WOMAN COULD NOT WALK

She Was So Ill—Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pentwater, Mich.—"A year ago I was very weak and the doctor said I had a serious displacement. I had backache and bearing down pains so bad that I could not sit in a chair or walk across the floor and I was in severe pain all the time. I felt discouraged as I had taken everything I could think of and was no better. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I am strong and healthy."—Mrs. ALICE DARRING, R.F.D. No. 2, Box 77, Pentwater, Mich.

Peoria, Ill.—"I had such backaches that I could hardly stand on my feet. I would feel like crying out lots of times, and had such a heavy feeling in my right side. I had such terrible dull headaches every day and they would make me feel so drowsy and sleepy all the time, yet I could not sleep at night."

"After I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a week I began to improve. My backache was less and that heavy feeling in my side went away. I continued to take the Compound and am cured."

Memorial Services.

Memorial services were held Sunday afternoon at 3.15 at the Baptist church conducted by the Rev. E. A. Davis. The members of Harry Rust Post and Relief Corps attended in a body. There was a fair sized attendance at the services, considering the heavy thunder storm which was in evidence.

The program for the afternoon consisted of a cornet solo "The Holy City," by Phil Jones of South Paris, a duet by Selden C. Foster and H. J. Foster, and the sermon by the pastor Rev. E. A. Davis.

In his opening words Mr. Davis, cordially welcomed the members of the Post, Relief Corps and visitors to the services of the afternoon. He said that he could not remember much about the war aside from a small child, but could remember his father leaving for the war and several incidents leading to the home life during that period.

The subject selected for the afternoon address was "Abraham Lincoln the one chosen of God to save the nation." In the course of his remarks he said that more than 3000 years ago a baby boy was born at the time when a decree was given over the land of Egypt that all male children should be killed, but one Hebrew woman, the mother of Moses, placed him in a basket in the rushes at the river. The princess came to bathe and found the child; looking on him with favor ordered him taken to the palace. After his sister appearing on the scene declared she could find a nurse for the baby and brought the boy's mother to bring him up, who taught him according to the Hebrew religion. When forty years old he killed an Egyptian, and was confined in prison. He was allowed to look over into the promised land, the same as Abraham Lincoln, but was not allowed to enter.

In the same way Abraham Lincoln was led of God to be the Savior of our nation. He was born in Kentucky, April 12, 1809, and when very young his father sold the home for so much money and so many kegs of rum, he was considered religious but it was a time when rum was considered all right, but what a glorious change has taken place since then!

His mother was a saintly woman who taught him the scriptures and a belief in God and he learned His ways in the world and His guiding of the nations.

Lincoln was a total abstainer and when elected to the Presidency many embarrassing situations came to view, but he held true to his pledge.

The cause of the war was founded back in the days when the constitution was framed. The clause prohibiting slavery was inserted but several states said "no" and the clause was erased. That was the real cause of the war.

Before the battle of Antietam Lincoln vowed before God that if victory came he would issue an emancipation proclamation. Victory came and the President presented the proclamation which was drawn up, liberating 4,000,000 black people. God used Moses to save a nation, and he also used Abraham Lincoln to save ours.

In closing, Mr. Davis told the story, taken from "The Perfect Tribute," how, Nov. 18, 1863, a special train left Washington carrying the United States officials to the Gettysburg address. He told how Lincoln, taking a piece of wrapping paper, framed the speech of Gettysburg along the route; how Edward Everett Hale held the audience spell-bound for two hours with his eloquent words, his masterpiece, and how Lincoln rose, stepped to the front of the stage, delivered his short speech, which lasted but two minutes, and not a sign of applause.

With seeming failure he returned to Washington to be met the next day by a boy who was looking for a lawyer to make the will who was a Southerner and about to die. Seizing the opportunity to assist his fellow men, Lincoln went there, to be rewarded by learning that the President's speech the day before was considered one of the grandest ever given and that the cause for our happiness was that it reached the hearts of the people and was too sacred for applause.

Little did Lincoln realize when said on that day, "The world will little note what we say here but it will never forget."

Norway Imprints.

I have received from Mrs. Izah Tenney Allen of Mattapoisett, Massachusetts, and formerly of Norway, a copy of the "Journal of the Times," No. 1, Vol. 1, issued at Norway, Wednesday, April 25, 1832. It is a folio sheet of four columns and was published by William E. Goodnow. The front page and most of the second is given over to a tale entitled "Retribution," by William Gaylord Clark, one of the editors of the old Knickerbocker Magazine in later years. The most interesting item referring to Norway is as follows:

Canal to Norway.

"The Legislature have granted a charter for a Canal to this place. We are sorry to see so little interest manifested upon this subject; it embraces an object, which if accomplished, would be of incalculable benefit to this section of the State. We believe that it is an object that will be accomplished, notwithstanding the apparent backwardness of the people. If we are not mistaken, the Connecticut and Oxford Canal Corporation are under some obligation to do something towards this object; for if we are rightly informed, the canal has not yet touched the County of Oxford. We intended to have given some remarks on the proposed location of the Canal, but for want of room we postpone them till next week."

There is half a column of foreign news via the ship Lion from Liverpool. There are no advertisements, except a demand for an "industrious and steady" young man as apprentice in the printing office. Evidently there was an epidemic of diphtheria and scarlet fever in Norway and vicinity. This death list records the demise of two sons of Deacon Benjamin Herrington within a few days of each other, one aged seventeen and the other thirteen. The Editor prints an excellent obituary on the eldest, and as to the second, a footnote, adding that his disease was the same as that of the above and "he also gave consoling evidence that his departure is his unrepentable gain."

I should like to know more about this newspaper: what its fate was and who was William E. Goodnow?

Mrs. Allen also sends me a copy of the Oxford Observer of July 24th, 1838. The bulk of the advertising was from Portland; the rest under the signed manual of Asa Barton, except for the announcement of the Tucker Woolen Mill.

Mr. Barton was publisher of the paper and however the Oxford Observer sold stomach plaster, vegetable pills and drops for fits. The last were "constantly for sale at the Oxford bookstore," according to a reading notice. Mr. Barton was also postmaster and in the list of "neglected letters" are some familiar names, to wit: Joseph Bradbury, Uriah Holt, Simon Noble, Daniel Smith, John Shed, Daniel Stevens, Jr., William Twombly, Jr. Persons indebted for postage were also requested to make payment immediately.

About the only local news was conveyed in a letter signed "A Delegate," giving a correct list of delegates to the political Convention at Paris on the 11th of June and among them I find that William Pitt Fessenden was a delegate from Bridgton. The Norway delegates were Nathaniel Bennett and Ichabod Bartlett; and from Waterford, Nathaniel Howe and Charles Whitman; Elias Stowell and Henry Prentiss from Paris. There was a long letter from Nathan Constant inveighing against the evils of intemperance, and a column of European news. Much of the last column of the first page and several of the second were given over to tributes to Andrew Jackson, who seems to have dominated them. DON C. SEITZ.

"Beal's Tavern" is the way the stationery and printed matter of F. R. Seavey, proprietor of the Beal's Hotel reads. The word seems to particularly fit.

H. N. Klain, dealer in rugs, rubbers, dry goods, etc. has just put the hat he had this spring newly painted. This time it is a brick red with black lettering.

FRYEBURG.

Capt. James T. Whitmore, a former dry goods merchant in Fryeburg, died on May 15, at his home in Warren, after a long and painful illness. Capt. Whitmore was born at Mr. Desart, and his father dying when he was very young, Capt. Whitmore shipped as helper when but eight years old on a vessel sailing to Grand Banks.

The first vessel commanded by him was the brig, Henry Leeds, which was wrecked on Nantucket Shoals, the crew escaping after a perilous experience. His last vessel, The White, foundered off the Delaware coast in the March blizzard of 1888, and Capt. Whitmore and others of the crew, in an open boat, were exposed to the fury of the elements for nearly three days before being rescued.

The severity of this experience determined him to leave the sea, and after a few years spent in business in New York Capt. Whitmore came to Fryeburg and established himself in a boot and shoe and dry goods business. His health improved very successfully until ill health obliged him to retire. About five years ago he sold the business to George O. Warren.

Capt. Whitmore had been a member of the Masonic order for 50 years and was also an Odd Fellow. He was twice married, his second wife, who survives him, being Mary E. Butler of Warren. His son, Albert A. Whitmore, is a submaster in the high school at Appleton, Wisconsin.

Charles Smith recently lost a valuable horse.

Norman Charles seems somewhat improved in health.

R. C. Ostrum was in Boston on business two days last week.

Margaret Koch will deliver the Memorial day address at Fryeburg.

W. R. Tarbox was in Portland, Thursday, to attend Masonic meeting.

Mrs. Seth Sargent has been seriously ill with the measles. She is now much better.

Mrs. Willis Jordan and sons of Portland spent the week-end at their cottage at Lovewell's pond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barnell have been on a vacation trip to Chicago via the Grand Trunk Railway.

Elmer Brackett was in Portland, Saturday, with Charles Fox, selecting supplies for the new house.

John Hutchins has rented "Camp Pampus" for the season to a gentleman and wife who had the same last season.

Dr. Seth C. Gordon of Portland spent a day in town last week. Dr. Gordon will soon open his home here for the summer.

Ridgeley Clark, teacher in the Academy, delivered a very nice address, Sunday, in the Congregational church, Rev. Caruthers being ill.

Hon. A. A. Perry delivered the Memorial day address in Standish, his native town. Mr. Perry is a fine speaker and a loyal, patriotic citizen.

At the precinct meeting it was voted to raise $250 to continue building cement sidewalks. The $500 raised by the town was contingent upon the precinct raising $250.

H. E. Cochran of Monmouth has been awarded the contract for re-decorating the interior of the Congregational church as soon as his work on the Lowell church is completed.

Mrs. Frank Thoms has made great improvements in "The Argonaut," and is prepared for the summer tourists. She is up-to-date and caters to her guests to the "queen's taste."

Richard Gaffner, who has worked for Chase Fox for several years, has given up that position and is working in the piano factory. Mr. Gaffner was a faithful man at his post early and late and liked by everyone.

Rev. J. W. Webster, who was called to supply the Christian church in Lovell, for the summer, was again summoned to Newport last week to attend a funeral. Mr. Webster has been there many times since he left two years ago, to attend funerals. Mr. Webster was greatly beloved in Newport.

Mrs. Geo. S. Barrows is at the Barrows Homestead for the summer. Her health is very good. Mrs. Barrows is one of the most intelligent, interesting ladies in Maine. She has been a great student all her life and having a very retentive memory and a most pleasing personality she is altogether a delightful lady to meet. She is over 80 years "young."

The date of unveiling the Soldiers' monument in Denmark is now settled to suit everyone and is June 26. It is a very fine piece of work and is a worthy memorial to the brave boys of Denmark who went to the front. Great credit is due Mr. Brackett and the townspeople who have procured the same and it is hoped everyone will avail themselves of the opportunity of witnessing the ceremony which will be a most impressive one when properly performed. Col. E. C. Milliken of Bosworth Post, Portland, who has charge of same is one of the best known and most popular men in the State. He is also one of the youngest Grand Army men. Mr. Brackett is a Past Dept. Commander of Maine G. A. R., and has held office in Bosworth Post since its formation. He practically belongs to Oxford county, and to Denmark, as his parents were born there. He is a very busy man and the monument committee were fortunate to secure him for the celebration. Many prominent Grand Army officers will be present.

Comparative Digestibility of Food

Made with different Baking Powders

From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

Bread made with
Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

100 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with
phosphate powder:

68 1/4 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with
alum powder:

67 3/4 Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.

LESSONS FROM FRENCHMEN.

Some Methods by Which They Grow Double Our Wheat Yield.

In France wheat farming is always combined with some other branches of agriculture, such as sheep raising or the growing of beets, and often the three go together successfully. In America we are accustomed to think that in order to raise wheat successfully one must plant hundreds of acres and devote his entire time to this crop. The statement that it doesn't pay to raise wheat on the small farms in the east is often heard, but is without foundation. The average wheat crop in the west, on the farms devoted exclusively to that cereal, is about fifteen bushels an acre; in France, where wheat is grown in rotation with other crops, the average is about thirty-five bushels.

The wheat farm that the writer visited comprises a thousand acres and is situated on a level plateau, from which on clear days the spires of Paris may be seen. On the afternoon of the writer's visit the men were all busy planting wheat and gathering beets. The first signs of life to be seen as the visitor approached were two flocks of sheep—about 1,200 in all—feeding on beet tops under the care of two shepherds with their dogs. Beyond the sheep and a bit nearer the buildings were the men leading beets into enormous two wheeled carts, each being drawn by three Percheron stallions driven tandem.

Beyond the harvesters were three sets of two furrow plows working, each drawn by six white oxen.

The plows, which were of the two furrow reversible type, were built with the draft and with four plows keyed in pairs to two parallel steel beams, which were fastened to the axle of the wheels by a ball and socket joint. Each pair of plows was placed one over the other so that when one was in the furrow the mate was upside down in the air directly over it. At the end of the furrow the plowman by means of a lever turned each beam half round, throwing the plow with moldboard on the right hand side into the air and bringing the left hand moldboard into the furrow. The plowmen were followed by three teams of oxen that harrowed the field, and these were followed by two grain drills. To a stranger it was a novelty to see all these operations taking place at the same time—Country Gentleman.

Thirty bushels of wheat to the acre on fifty acres will result in as much wheat produced at a much less expenditure of labor and seed as will fifteen bushels per acre on 100 acres. This is the whole argument for intensive methods in farming.

DON'T TRY FOR TOO MUCH.

Give Your Vegetables Room is a Good Gardener's Motto.

Do not be afraid to thin your plants. They must not be crowded. Probably more garden stuff has been ruined for want of being thinned at the proper time than by any other cause.

However that may be, one of the most puzzling things for the beginner is to find out whether any particular vegetable should be thinned or transplanted, and how far apart the plants should stand afterward.

He will get some help from the catalogues as to the distances, but whether he should transplant or thin is the kind of thing that is not in the book.

It requires a good deal of nerve to pull up and destroy the unnecessary seedling—more nerve than the amateur possesses. They say that a person never becomes a good gardener until he steals his nerve to this ruthless sacrifice.

A vegetable must have plenty of room to develop its best size and flavor, and one can take no pride in small or commonplace vegetables. True it is that "the worst weed in corn is corn."—Farm Progress.

Irrigating With Tomato Cans.

The following is an easy and effective way to start plants in dry weather: Sink an ordinary tomato can, with a one-eighth inch hole half an inch from the bottom, in the ground so that the hole will be near the roots of the plant.

Tamp the dirt around both plant and can and fill the latter with water. Keep the can filled until the plant is out of danger.—Popular Mechanics.

Drying Up Wet Places.

Farmers often have a wet, springy place, containing several square feet, in a field which is difficult and often very expensive to drain. The problem was finally solved by a farm hand who dug deep holes in the center of such places and in each one sank two brine barrels, one on top of the other. The top barrel was covered. The water collected almost at once in these barrels, and the wet places dried up.—Farm Journal.

Two things for the farmer to do this fall—vote right and save the seed corn right, but save the seed corn first.

Comparative Digestibility of Food

Made with different Baking Powders

From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

The relative percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

Bread made with
Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

100 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with
phosphate powder:

68 1/4 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with
alum powder:

67 3/4 Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.

LESSONS FROM FRENCHMEN.

Some Methods by Which They Grow Double Our Wheat Yield.

In France wheat farming is always combined with some other branches of agriculture, such as sheep raising or the growing of beets, and often the three go together successfully. In America we are accustomed to think that in order to raise wheat successfully one must plant hundreds of acres and devote his entire time to this crop. The statement that it doesn't pay to raise wheat on the small farms in the east is often heard, but is without foundation. The average wheat crop in the west, on the farms devoted exclusively to that cereal, is about fifteen bushels an acre; in France, where wheat is grown in rotation with other crops, the average is about thirty-five bushels.

The wheat farm that the writer visited comprises a thousand acres and is situated on a level plateau, from which on clear days the spires of Paris may be seen. On the afternoon of the writer's visit the men were all busy planting wheat and gathering beets. The first signs of life to be seen as the visitor approached were two flocks of sheep—about 1,200 in all—feeding on beet tops under the care of two shepherds with their dogs. Beyond the sheep and a bit nearer the buildings were the men loading beets into enormous two wheeled carts, each being drawn by three Percheron stallions driven tandem.

Beyond the harvesters were three sets of two furrow plows working, each drawn by six white oxen.

The plows, which were of the two furrow reversible type, were built with a pair of wheels in front to lighten the draft and with four plows keyed in pairs to two parallel steel beams, which were fastened to the axle of the wheels by a ball and socket joint. Each pair of plows was placed one over the other so that when one was in the furrow the mate was upside down in the air directly over it. At the end of the furrow the plowman by means of a lever turned each beam half round, throwing the plow with moldboard on the right hand side into the air and bringing the left hand moldboard into the furrow. The plowmen were followed by three teams of oxen that harrowed the field, and these were followed by two grain drills. To a stranger it was a novelty to see all these operations taking place at the same time.—Country Gentleman.

Thirty bushels of wheat to the acre on fifty acres will result in as much wheat produced at a much less expenditure of labor and seed as will fifteen bushels per acre on 100 acres. This is the whole argument for intensive methods in farming.

DON'T TRY FOR TOO MUCH.

Give Your Vegetables Room is a Good Gardener's Motto.

Do not be afraid to thin out your plants. They must not be crowded. Probably more garden stuff has been ruined for want of being thinned at the proper time than by any other cause.

However that may be, one of the most puzzling things for the beginner is to find out whether any particular vegetable should be thinned or transplanted, and how far apart the plants should stand afterward.

He will get some help from the catalogues as to the distances, but whether he should transplant or thin is the kind of thing that is not in the book.

It requires a good deal of nerve to pull up and destroy the unnecessary seedling—more nerve than the amateur possesses. They say that a person never becomes a good gardener until he steals his nerve to this ruthless sacrifice.

A vegetable must have plenty of room to develop its best size and flavor, and one can take no pride in small or commonplace vegetables. True it is that "the worst weed in corn is corn."—Farm Progress.

Irrigating With Tomato Cans.

The following is an easy and effective way to start plants in dry weather. Sink an ordinary tomato can, with a one-eighth inch hole half an inch from the bottom, in the ground so that the hole will be near the roots of the plant. Tamp the dirt around both plant and can. Fill the can with water. Keep the can filled until the plant is out of danger.—Popular Mechanics.

Drying Up Wet Places.

Farmers often have a wet, springy place, containing several square feet, in a field which is difficult and often very expensive to drain. The problem was finally solved by a farm hand who dug deep holes in the center of such places and in each one sank two brine barrels, one on top of the other. The top barrel was covered. The water collected almost at once in these barrels, and the wet places dried up.—Farm Journal.

Two things for the farmer to do this fall—vote right and save the seed corn right, but save the seed corn first.
